It was a comeback beyond imagination as India displayed their true prowess. The spectacle the sport had long awaited was the thrilling six-run victory in New York's Induction into serious top-tier cricket. Indian team secured their path to the Super-8s. The chants of "Lehra do" echoed at full volume as the serene Long Island corner transformed into a radiant stadium of excitement.

NEW YORK: It was a comeback of dreams as India showed what they are truly capable of. The six-run win in New York's initiation to serious top-flight cricket was truly the spectacle that the sport was so desperately waiting for. Down, out and virtually nailed into the coffin, the bravehearts in blue rose from the ashes as India's entry into Super-8s looks well assured. Lehra do played in full blast as the quaint corner of Long Island turned into a stadium of light. The toss went against India, a spectacular collapse led to them being dismissed for 119, and when Pakistan score read 80-4 in the 15th over, the game looked all but gone.
